

The AAR's Syllabi Project has been moved to the Wabash Center's Internet Guide to Religion . The Wabash Center's Internet Guide to Religion is a selective, annotated guide to a wide variety of electronic resources associated with the study and practice of religion. The Guide includes syllabi, electronic texts, electronic journals, web sites, bibliographies, reference resources, and software. Syllabi from the AAR Syllabus Project are integrated into the overall taxonomy of the Guide. Searching for syllabi can be done in a variety of ways. The Wabash Center welcomes links and PDFs of current syllabi for inclusion on the Guide. Please submit syllabi to Paul Myhre, [This e-mail address is being protected from spambots.
